

Knutsonian grammar.

This is a grammar for the knutsonian Folkspraak idiolect, every information in this grammar I have taken from Message 2376 in the archive database. Only the layout has been changed to make it more accessible to anyone who would like to read it. To make it easier to compare this idiolect tom my own as presented in “De new grammatik von Folkspraak” I have decided that this should be arranged the same way as mine.

Knutson does not describe this, but the knutsonian tounge allows the use of the following letters.

The grammar.

The definite and indefinite articles.

definite: de

indefinite: e

examples: e tri (a tree) e hus (a house)

Nouns.

The knutsonian tongue has two cases: nominative and genitive. The genitive isn't mentioned in message 2376, but from his text "In de ginning" it is attested that you add an s to the stem.

For instance: de hus- the house

nominative singularis: de man

Genitive singularis : de mans

The plural form is created by adding "s" to the stem, and -es if them stem ends on s.

Nominative pluralis: de mans

Genitive plural : de manses*

This isn't attested, but according to the rules described in 2376 this must be the form.

Adjectives.

adjectives are never inflicted according to the noun they describe. Adjectives can become comparative and superlative by adding -er and ist to the stem, or by placing mer and mest before the word.

Root	Root
Rooter	mer root
Rootist	mest root

adverbs and adjectives have the same form. adjectives stand before the noun they describe, adverbs after the verbs they describe.
